Sims Says Navy Teuton Plot Victim

WAR HEADS TRICKED, ADMIRAL CLAIMS

Lays Huge Ally Ship Loss To Alleged Fault of U. S. Department

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Charges that the navy department was a victim of German propaganda were made by Admiral W. S. Sims before a senate naval sub-committee today.

This propaganda misled the department into a misconception of the problem of defending the American coast during the war and prevented all co-operation with the Allies, Sims told the committee, which is investigating the navy's part in the war.

Reluctance of the department to co-operate with Admiral Sims drove him to "desperation," he declared today in connection with his charge that the department's alleged inefficiency prolonged the war.

"Hundreds of thousands of tons" of Allied shipping were sunk because the navy department held out or the plan of operating ships individually under armed guard instead of in convoys, as desired by the Allies.

He also asserted he made unsuccessful efforts to set up at London a completely centralized control over all Allied ships, naval and merchant, but that this was blocked at Washington.

Sims read many cables and letters to indicate the difficulty he met in obtaining adoption of his recommendations by the navy department.

Finally accepting the convoy principle, the navy department then found itself in conflict with London and Sims over details in carrying it out, testimony showed.

"It is very difficult for me to convey to you an idea of the real state of desperation in which I found myself almost daily during those early months of the war," Sims said.

FINAL ARGUMENTS IN CENTRALIA SLAYING CASE ARE UNDER WAY

MONTESANO, Wash., Mar. 12.—Final argument of the first degree murder charges against the 10 defendants in the Centralia murder trial were to be made today after Judge Wilson delivers his charge to the jury.

That the prosecution will demand the death penalty for the 10 accused I. W. W. charged with firing from ambush into the ranks of the American Legion paraders on Armistice day now seems certain. Under the Washington statutes the jury will decide the penalty to be inflicted in case a verdict of guilty is found.

Though the trial has constantly drawn capacity crowds, hundreds will be turned away according to early indications.

Judge Wilson spent a great part of yesterday and last night preparing the intricate instructions which will guide the jury in its deliberations. Since there are 10 defendants involved and the state has attempted to show that each was implicated in a different manner a quick verdict is not looked for.

STERLING SLUMPS AT NEW YORK OPENING

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—A violent slump in sterling occurred today when bills in London were quoted at the opening at 3.65 1/2, a decline of 8 cents from yesterday's close.

Immediately after the opening, sterling recovered slightly to 3.66 1/2. Francs opened at 13.53, off 12 centimes, and lire 18.20, off 43 marks were $0.130 and U. S. dollars on Canada $1.23.12.

BOY TELLS POLICE HE IS WANTED FOR BAY CITY HOLD-UP

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Mar. 12.—Walter Gerngros, 17, told police here today he is wanted by San Francisco police for holding up a branch Western Union office in that city last December.

Missing Scientist Is Believed Found in Washington

STEVENSON, Wash., Mar. 12.—The belief was expressed today that a man who was found suffering from influenza and whose mind was unbalanced may be Dr. Arthur Lachman, well-known author and scientist, for whom a nation-wide search has been in progress since his disappearance from his home in San Francisco, December 10.

The man, who gave the name of H. J. Wetherell, was committed and taken to the Medical Lake Sanitarium, near Spokane. The belief that "Wetherell" may be Dr. Lachman was gathered from information which he gave examining physicians.

Friends of Dr. Lachman at San Francisco have been notified.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—Five cars of oranges, two cars of lemons sold. Orange market unchanged. Averages $2.95 to $6.93. Highest, 32 boxes of Mahala, $7.40. Lemons unchanged. Averages $3.36 to $4.18. Raining, 8 a. m.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Approximately $300,000,000 will be added yearly to the cost of the national coal bill, according to coal operators who claim to know the contents of the majority report of the national commission forwarded to President Wilson yesterday. This increase would be paid by the public in higher coal prices or increased charges of utility companies and other large consumers of bituminous coal. The report of the majority of the commission is expected to be made public late today at the White House. The disagreement of the commissioners may plunge the entire coal controversy into what it was when the commission was appointed, it was learned.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Threat of financial disaster if further burdens are laid on the people will prevent congress from passing legislation to give bonuses to former service men, members of the House says and means committee said today.

MRS. DEMPSEY IS DUE AT S. F. FOLLOWING TRIP TO TIA JUANA

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 12.—Maxine Dempsey's trip to Tia Juana to play the races occupied the attention today of Federal agents, while they held Julius E. (Bert) Gardner in jail in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Dempsey, divorced wife of Jack Dempsey, was scheduled to arrive here today to consult with Assistant United States Attorney Thomas regarding the latest development in the case in which Dempsey is charged with conspiracy to evade the draft.

Gardner and Maxine Dempsey went together to Tia Juana from her mother's home in Yakima, Wash. Federal men said. Gardner was arrested at Tia Juana with the aid of Mexican officers.

Charges, it was thought, might be preferred against Gardner today. He is a close friend of Jack. Mrs. Dempsey is the government's chief witness against her former husband.

NEWBERRY CAMPAIGN MANAGER COLLAPSES ON WITNESS STAND

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Mar. 12.—Paul H. King, manager of the campaign to elect Truman H. Newberry to the United States senate in 1918, today attempted to resume his testimony in the Michigan election fraud trial, but collapsed on the witness stand after a few minutes examination.

King left his bed against the advice of his physicians. He suffered a nervous breakdown Tuesday, following his direct examination.

129 MINE OPERATORS AND WORKERS SOUGHT AFTER INDICTMENTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Mar. 12.—Capias for the arrest of 125 indicted coal mine operators and workers were scattered throughout the Central competitive field today.

Many arrests were expected today. Two-thirds of those indicted late yesterday by the federal grand jury here are operators. The remainder are mine union officials and workers. The men are from Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, western Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Tennessee, Alabama and West Virginia.

COUNTY PAYS FRANCE ASKS $500,000 ON WAR CLAUSE INCOMES

Twice as Many Report for 1920 As Filed Returns Last Year

With the number of Orange county people having an annual income of more than $5000 treble the number reporting in 1918, and twice as many people of lesser income reporting, Orange county residents this year will contribute more than half a million dollars to the support of the government, in the opinion of E. B. Burns, local deputy income tax collector today.

With next Monday as the last day for reporting incomes before liability of a penalty, those whose incomes the past year were sufficient to place them in the list of reporters are flocking to the city hall in droves, and yesterday and today and at almost all hours of the day people had to stand in line to reach the desk of Burns in the city council chambers.

L. A. Desmond, a deputy from Los Angeles, reported for duty here today and will remain until after Monday to assist Burns. He has been assisting in other parts of the county for the past three weeks. The deputies will be on duty tonight until 7:30, tomorrow night until 9 o'clock and Monday night until midnight. With the exception of Monday night the collectors will be found at the city council and the room will have to be surrendered to the trustees. Just before time for the council to meet the deputies will transfer the scene of activities to the chamber of commerce rooms on the second floor of the city hall and near the council chambers.

No Refunds Here

The government will not have to refund any money it has collected in Orange county because of the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, holding that corporation dividends paid by issuing stock instead of cash is not taxable.

Burns knows of no such payments having been made in Orange county last year or the year before. Prior to the decision income tax collectors had been collecting on the value of dividends paid by the issuance of stock, holding that they were equivalent to the receipt of cash.

Burns announced today that payment of the tax by corporations had been extended to May 15. By that time reports must be made, and estimate of the tax liability must be made, if the corporation is not in position to make a complete report on its 1918 income by that date. One-fourth of the amount due must be paid at the time of filing estimated income reports.

Individuals who have been sick, or who have been out of the state, may have the time for payment extended, by making a written application in duplicate to Burns or any one who might be assisting him in the work here. By doing this, such people will avoid the penalty for failure to make the report in the time designated.

Reports Double

"The number making reports this year will easily double the number submitting records for 1918," said Burns this morning. "Incomes of those reporting last year are greater this year, and the number who are reporting with $5000 or more is three times greater than in 1918."

"I believe the payments by Orange county people will exceed half a million dollars. While I have been rushed, my detail work has been less than it was last year, because of the fact that the people have informed themselves better on the income tax provisions and have been able to submit more complete reports than they did last year."

There still, however, are a great many people who do not fully understand the many points as to what is a legitimate charge against their income, but their experience this year will be of value to them next year and will lessen the time I will have to give them in explaining the various points. My advice to everyone is to keep books on the personal incomes and expenses.

"I have found Orange county residents, as a whole, displaying an exceptional willingness to play fair with the government—they want to be just to themselves and to the government. Many are glad to pay the tax—glad that they have had an income that justifies a report."

Revelations
 "There is no doubt in my mind but that the filing of reports have brought revelations to many as to the extent of their income. In the past they have been more or less indifferent as to the amount they received from their various sources of income."

President's Claim Militaristic Party Controls Prompts Inquiry

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The French government has made an inquiry of the United States for an explanation of President Wilson's statement in a letter to Senator Hitchcock "that a militaristic party is now in control in France," it was reported on good authority today.

It was stated the inquiry was not in the nature of a protest but that it took the form of a question as to what the President based his assertion on.

Whether the President will answer is not yet known.

It is understood the French request as to the basis of President Wilson's charge was transmitted to the State Department by the French embassy here. Ambassador Jusserand would not confirm or deny this, however.

The statement of President Wilson in question is said to hinge on the following paragraph in his letter to Senator Hitchcock:

"Throughout the stations in Paris it was evident that a militaristic party, under the most influential ascendancy in the councils of France. They were defeated then, but are in control now. The chief arguments made in Paris in support of Italian claims on the Adriatic question were military arguments," the paragraph read in part, "which had for their object the stopping of the naval supremacy in that field."

Lodge Compromise

Senator Lodge today presented in the Senate a compromise reservation to Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant. The compromise is a modification of the Watson-Simmons proposal, which itself was a modification of the original Lodge reservation.

The original Watson-Simmons compromise provided that the United States should assume no obligations in the event of military, naval and economic force or its resources in preserving other nations against aggression.

The amended form provides that the United States "assumes no obligation to preserve" the territory and independence of other nations against aggression.

The first draft, some Republicans thought, left the obligation "to preserve," which was the very thing which they objected. If provided only refusal of an obligation "to employ" certain means in fulfilling the obligation "to preserve," they said.

Situation Uncertain

The amended draft leaves no doubt, the senators think, about the intent of the United States to keep from pledging itself beforehand to engage in a European war. While this change may have gained some Republican votes, it is considered likely to lose some Democratic votes.

Hence the situation is still uncertain.

The many senators who were active today in efforts to save the peace treaty were urged on by political and business forces.

They held the view, they said, that they dared not give up as long as the slightest hope remains. They may be forced soon to let the question go to a test vote in the Senate, which will demonstrate conclusively whether ratification is possible.

Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, has given an indication of voting against ratification, it was stated today by several senators. Penrose voted for ratification last session but is said to have been prevailed upon by Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, one of the Republican "bitter-enders" to change his position.

REPUBLICANS LEADING IN FRESNO'S FIGURES

FRESNO, Mar. 12.—With a steady return of from 400 to 600 signatures each day, the total registration of voters of the county has passed the 13,000 mark. With each new list of returns the Republican lead is increased, the present majority of that party over the Democrats being 2,219.

The political preferences total: Democrats, 4,751; Republicans, 6,970; Progressives, 85; Prohibitionists, 191; Socialists, 238, and declined to state, 1,082. Yesterday's returns were: Democrats, 250; Republicans, 393; Progressives, 5; Prohibitionists, 10; Socialists, 11, and declined to state, 67.

REACH BISBEE KIDNAPING CASE TURNING POINT

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Mar. 12.—The right of a community to defend itself the same as an individual was argued today in the Bisbee deportation trial. Attorneys and others from many southwestern cities left for Tombstone to hear attorneys argue this unique application of the law of self-defense. "Our state is founded on two laws, as old as law itself," declared Attorney W. H. Burgess, chief defense counsel. "They are the laws of self-defense and the laws of necessity." Burgess promised to prove that 4000 men under alleged I. W. W. leadership plotted the destruction of Bisbee as a part of the plot against the United States government, "reaching from the Canadian line to the Mexican border." He declared outbreaks at Seattle and at Sand Point were a part of the same plan. "We have the proof," said Burgess. He declared it would be proven the deportees acted under direct instructions of the sheriff of the county, who had reason to believe a "disastrous riot" was impending.

125 ACRES COTTON FOR TURLOCK AREA

TURLOCK, Cal., Mar. 12.—One hundred and twenty-five acres in the Turlock irrigation district are to be planted to cotton this season, according to an announcement today by Victor Hallstone, manager of the United Growers, Inc.

At a recent meeting here about fifty farmers signed up to plant Durango cotton in small experimental plots, the largest being only ten acres. Cotton grown by a few farmers in the district last season brought good profit and if this year's venture is a success, a gin probably will be erected here to handle cotton in commercial quantities and the acreage will be greatly increased.

MEN TO BE 'GIRLS' IN STANFORD REVUE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Mar. 12.—The "Raid's" men's dramatic society here today will stage an original burlesque here in which men will take all the parts, both men's and women's.

Julian Eltinge, an honorary member of the society, will assist in the direction of the play, especially in the make-up and costuming of men taking women's parts.

1 CRUSHED TO DEATH IN K. C. CAR CRASH

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 12.—One passenger was crushed to death and 14 injured near here when an interurban car crashed into a steel sand car on a siding last night.

Blinding rain and wind had extinguished a flagman's lantern. He tried to light it several times, but failed.

SEAL BEACH VOTES ON $15,000 BONDS TODAY

SEAL BEACH, Mar. 12.—Seal Beach voters are today balloting up on a $15,000 bond issue for school purposes, and indications today were that the bonds would carry. The money will be used in building a new addition to the school house for next year, in order to avoid the congestion which has been evident this year, and which will be more pronounced next term unless the additional room is provided through a bond issue.

SOLONS AT BAY CITY FOR QUIZ ON BORDER

SAN DIEGO, Mar. 12.—U. S. Senators Albert B. Fall, New Mexico, and Mark A. Smith, Arizona, members of the subcommittee of the senate on Mexican affairs, are in San Diego for the purpose of making investigations along the border district. Other members will arrive later and hearings will be held.

GREEK SMASH ON TURKS IN ANATOLIA IS GIVEN PEACE CONFERENCE O. K.

LONDON, March 12.—The peace conference has decided to permit the Greeks to attack the Turks in Anatolia and take whatever measures are necessary to expel them from that region, it was learned semi-officially today.

This permission was given on condition that after the campaign has been successfully concluded the Greeks will return to the positions occupied by them before the fighting began. It was said to have been specified that the Greeks may pursue the Turks as far as they deem necessary. The Italian representatives were the last to withdraw with their objections to the plan.

The Greeks in the Anatolia region are said to number 90,000 and to have 200 field pieces. The Turks under Mustapha Kemal number 40,000.

Earl Curzon, foreign secretary, has placed on the United States the blame for the difficulties being experienced in settling the Turkish problem. Explaining the Peace Conference negotiations in the House of Lords, he said the Conference hoped that when the new states were set up in Asia Minor, the United States would help materially in assisting the new Armenia.

The Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, denied emphatically that there was an organized massacre of Armenians, but said that 100 or 200 non-combatants, Musselmans as well as Christians, had been killed or wounded.

Zeitun, Humit, and other Armenian villages in Cilicia have been besieged by Turkish bands for the past ten days, according to dispatches received here.

Seven Die As Tornadoes Grip Southwest Missouri

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Mar. 12.—Twenty-five school children were injured, several seriously, when a school house at Sherman collapsed during a heavy wind-storm today. Reports from Sherman stated that most of the buildings there were leveled by the storm. The gas was general over several northern Kentucky counties.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Mar. 12.—Tornadoes in the past twenty-four hours have taken a toll of seven lives in Southwest Missouri. Many persons were injured. A few are missing.

The death-dealing winds struck four different places with this result: At Melva—At least five dead, several injured. At Nevada—One dead. At Branson—One dead. At Oasis—Two missing.

Torrential rains accompanied the storm at Melva. The storm areas seemed to center there and extended for a radius of fifteen miles on all sides.

Water and wind claimed victims there. Some of the victims were school children in the families of Williams and Rand Box, brothers. Dismissed from school, they were playing on the banks of Turkey creek when engulfed suddenly in the rush of storm waters.

Ridgeway Mankey was hurled about 1000 feet through the air. When he opened his eyes he saw his brother, William, struggling in the flood waters, but was too weak to save him.

Other dead at Melva, which was almost wiped out, were Mrs. Alva Howard and a small child. Nearby on a farm at Branson, William Jackson lost his life.

John Gross and his wife were blown away with their home north of Branson and no trace has been found of man, woman or house.

Reported killed in the Nevada tornado were Rex Piersall, Harry Bresos and William Rothwell. Property damage there was heavy.

Much property was also damaged in the Taney county towns—Forsythe, Taneyville, Kirbyville and Mildred—all tourist camping grounds in the White River country made famous by Harold Bell Wright's story, "The Shepherd of the Hills."

Rising water in Lake Taney Como threatened the power dam which develops electric current for Southwest Missouri.

A special train took the Melva dead and seriously injured to Branson.

Long Beach Capitalist Buys Fine Lemon Grove

Adolph Marx, who owns a $100,000 residence on the ocean front at Long Beach, adjoining the Bixby residence has purchased a fine lemon grove on Newport Road from D. Eymann Huff, manager of the David Hewes Realty Co. property at El Modena.

The purchase means the construction of a fine new orchard residence and the location of a new family in the Tustin district. The buyer has purchased the property for his son.

The property consists of eight and one-half acres of nine-year-old lemon trees. A knoll on the property, which adjoins the Red Hill pumping plant, is to be the building site. Huff bought the orchard 8 years ago for $8500. He is selling it for $21,000.

Huff's experience with this grove is another instance of the fact that lemon groves are deserving of greater attention in the making of prices of groves hereabouts.

"My income from this property," said Huff, "over the period of years that I owned it compares very favorably with the income of a Valencia grove of the same age over the same period."

Hoover's Mystery Stand Puzzles Political Heads

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Mar. 12.—Both Republicans and Democrats interested in the candidacies of other presidential possibilities apparently are still inclined to adjudge Herbert Hoover neither "fish, flesh nor fowl."

Neither of the national headquarters would comment today on Hoover's eligibility for their respective ranks. The impression prevailing in the various rival camps, however, so far as any comment could be obtained, was that the former food administrator's recent declarations that he was a progressive Republican before the war, a non-partisan during the war and an "independent progressive" now, left much to the imagination regarding his present party status.

Members of both parties still free from open allegiance to any of the avowed or prospective candidates were chary about commenting. Several connected with campaign organizations however, expressed their opinion in this vein:

Democrats—"Hoover's statement certainly shows he is not a Democrat. We don't know what he is."

Republicans—"If Hoover is a Republican, why doesn't he say so? The lines are clearly enough drawn for him to know his own mind. We do not believe he is eligible for the Republican nomination."

The newly launched Hoover boom here continued blithely on its way, irrespective of the opinions of some Republicans that he cannot be considered as a Republican.

WOMAN FOR CONGRESS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 12.—Dr. Esther Phel Lovejoy, prominent physician and club woman, has announced her candidacy for the Democratic nomination for congress from the Portland district.

Dr. Lovejoy is national head of the American Women's Medical Association and is former health officer of Portland. She is the author of a book on war work in Europe, having been identified with the rehabilitation service in devastated districts of the war zone.

Dr. Lovejoy believes the country needs neither a political revolution nor political parties.

The South, Pacific and far west were eliminated in last night's play. The defeat of Los Angeles, 1919 champions, was administered by New York University, 35 to 32.

FANS AGOG ASS. P. PREPARING POLY SPEED DUELS NEAR TRADE PUSH IN COUNTY

Poly track athletes were today preparing for their most important contests of the season which are to be held on the local field Saturday afternoon with Santa Ana, Fullerton and Whittier competing. Principal interest in the meet is centered in the three dash events in which John Spangler, local speedster, and Arch Hawkins, highly touted Fullerton youth, will be the principal contestants. Both have been doing the 100-yard dash .10 flat and this event will probably be the closest of all.

Big delegations from the three schools are expected to witness the meet and preparations are being made to handle a large crowd. The events will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The track meet scheduled for Thursday afternoon between the freshmen and sophomore teams of Orange and Santa Ana was postponed until Wednesday, March 17.

The local Poly baseball team played its second league game of the season this afternoon at Orange.

Santa Ana has a strong team this year and has the start on Orange. Santa Ana already has played one league game and several practice tilts, and has shown "considerable class."

The Orange pitching department is well cared for by "Sandy" Loesch and Al Keuchel, veterans of two seasons, and when they get going, "Sandy" will have to carry the burden on his shoulder until the basketball championship has been settled, as Keuchel is more than busy in that line.

The following men were to start for Orange in today's game: Davy, c; Loesch, p; Eisenbraun, 1b; Denis, 2b; Johnson, ss; Magill, 2b; Fouch, rf; Foster, cf; Goddard, lf.

Fred E. Watson, assistant General Passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, was in the city today, visiting L. B. Valla, division agent, and looking the field over.

It is the intention of the company to resume its former activities in developing business for the line in this locality. Watson, like many other of the railroad men, is at sea as to what the future of the railroads will be.

"I do know, however that it is the intention of the Southern Pacific to go after business in this territory as it did before the consolidation of the lines under government control," said Watson today. "We will give the same character of service and the same courtesy that we formerly gave our patrons—that is we will give the service in so far as we can with the changed conditions now obtaining as against what they were before."

Separation of the office forces here has not yet been made. The local depots are still consolidated. When the forces will be divided is unknown to the local men. Division Agent Valla maintains his office at the Southern Pacific depot, but the ticket and freight business still is done at the Santa Fe.

Orders are expected most any day directing that the Southern Pacific resume business at the old stand.

AMUSEMENTS

GIRLS SHOWN IN FIGHT

Life in a fashionable boarding school for girls, the comradeship of some and the petty jealousies of others are cleverly depicted in the screen version of Le Roy Scott's novel, "A Daughter of Two Worlds," to be shown at the Yost Theater, beginning Sunday.

Norma Talmadge is the star. She takes the part of Jennie, daughter of Black Jerry Malone, proprietor of a notorious underworld cabaret, who has sent her to the school under an assumed name to escape incarceration in jail for a forgery she did not commit. It was Black Jerry's cherished ambition to see his pretty daughter elevated from her sordid environment. At the school, Jennie becomes the steadfast chum of Sue Harrison, from a home of wealth and refinement. Gloria, a snob of the boarding school, insults Sue, calls her a liar, and then the fun commences. Jennie, incensed when she sees Sue in tears, grabs Gloria and there is a lively skirmish in the presence of all the girls. There is some hairy pulling and grappling, and Jennie emerges from the fray as the triumphant victor. She forces an apology from the crestfallen and subdued Gloria.

BOARD OF TRADE ASKS MORE PAY FOR TEACHERS

FULLERTON, Mar. 12.—A near-fistic encounter between Attorney E. J. Marks and William Starbuck, a warning that labor unions must save themselves and their principles by ousting foreign agitators, and a unanimous recommendation that the pay of Fullerton teachers be raised "in keeping with the high cost of living," featured the regular Board of Trade meeting this week, following the usual banquet served by the Ebell ladies.

The near-boxing bout was staged impromptu during a discussion of the "Starbuck road" proposition, which has been wrestled with and about for nearly ten years, Marks

The cost of packing and shipping is about the same for fine tea as for common tea—more than twice the tea-garden cost of the tea itself.

The extra cost of Schilling Tea buys the young tender leaf full of fine tea-flavor instead of the older leaf, which has a lot of tannin in it, with very little tea-flavor, and coarse at that.

Is it worth your while to pay the high transportation and other costs that all tea must bear, and get only weak tannin-laden tea?

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon-India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment-lined moisture-proof packages. At grocers everywhere.

explaining why the Board of Trustees seeks to open the road and Starbuck opposing the move, as he has always done. When Starbuck insisted that Marks was attorney for the Nicolas estate and was lobbyist for the Trustees, Marks declared: "Those statements are an absolute falsehood, and I don't want any more of your insulting insinuations." Whereupon the two glared at each other, but Starbuck was called on a point of order, and a threat to make him sit down by President R. S. Gregory forced him to avoid further personalities, although further Starbuck statements were protested by Mayor J. R. Carhart, who said "Don't try to make a liar out of me or anyone else. Stick to the facts."

Warns Against Agitators.
The warning against professional labor agitators and persistent trouble makers was issued by Griffith Jones, an attorney, who said: "The true friend of labor must look at the labor problem from the public standpoint and not altogether from the standpoint of the capitalist nor the laboring man. While I believe strongly in the right of the laboring man to organize for self protection, the same as the business men and capitalists, I am unalterably opposed to the foreign leaders coming into a community and calling a strike among the workers. If these men are allowed to go from one state to another and ferment strike, the unions will lose all."

Jones believes that everyone was in favor of the laboring man receiving good pay but he believes that the laboring man should give an honest day's work for his pay. He cited an instance in New York where bricklayers were formerly receiving $5 a day and were allowed to lay 1,500 brick. They now receive $10 per day and are only allowed by their unions to lay 500 brick per day which was not fair to the public and tended to discredit the unions. Such conditions came about principally by the radical element getting in control of the unions, he declared.

S. C. Hartranft made a plea for adequate pay for teachers. He read from reports from different parts of the union where teachers were drifting away from the profession and going into other lines which paid them a better living wage.

He showed by charts that there had been an increase of from 63 to 180 per cent in wages of trades and professions in Fullerton since 1914 all except the teachers and their increase was a fraction over 12 per cent.

"Students," he said, "do not look forward to a teaching profession. The sole hope of the teacher is a little life insurance, they cannot save enough to provide them with the necessities of life in their old days."

The schools of Fullerton and the nation for that matter are facing a serious crisis, said the speaker, in losing so many good men and women from the teaching profession, as it will leave the rising generation untrained and is a direct blow to the American home.

LIFE, LIBERTY AND THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS—THESE ARE THE DIVIDENDS OF U. S. ARMY

Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—these are the dividends of the government of the United States, backed up by the army, and every loyal American is a shareholder and receives a dividend of this character.

This is the statement of First Lieutenant W. A. Mead, 44th Infantry, who is in charge of the army recruiting station at 110½ East Fourth street.

"The United States army was the first institution of our government," said Lieut. Mead today. "It was organized to secure the formation of our government. In the last analysis it is the one institution which assures us having a government."

"As the basic institution of our government your army's business is to maintain and protect the constitution; to insure that right prevails over might; to exact obedience to the laws of our land; to safeguard justice, freedom and democracy and to perpetuate America."

"This is the business in which you are a shareholder, the business which pays you the dividends necessary to your future existence."

"The United States is entering a period destined to be the most memorable in its history. Every American as never before, is taking a vital personal interest in the institutions of America and the business of being an American. The army, as the institution engaged in the business which pays you the greatest individual dividends, deserves your first consideration and loyal support."

"Americanism, progress, industry, are its keynotes."

"In the new army you are already a shareholder. Upon its maintenance at full strength may depend at any time the payment of your dividends of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Its maintenance at full strength depends upon the support which you give the plans for this new army, and interest which you show in the men who compose its personnel."

"With your constant and loyal support and interest the men of your army guarantee the payment of your dividends. For this they serve."

GYPSY BAND IN NEAR RIOT; 7 ARRESTED

Judge Cox's court room was today the gathering place of seven members of a large band of gypsies as the result of their arrest today following a near riot at Olive last night in which citizens and gypsies were on the verge of a clash. Trouble started last night in Roland Seaman's restaurant when three gypsies claimed they were over-charged for their meal. In the dispute that followed the gypsies threatened to throw Seaman out of his place of business.

When the gypsies started around the counter after Seaman he quickly put them to flight when he struck one of their number over the head with an empty "near beer" bottle. It is said the gypsies then instituted a systematic raid on wood piles in the vicinity, in the meantime cursing women and children with whom they came in contact.

It was at this time that a mob of irate citizens began to form, among their number being several oil well workers. A raid on the gypsy camp was suggested but Constable Jesse Elliott and Deputy Sheriff Charles Holbrook arrived on the scene in time to prevent any trouble. The local authorities were joined by Deputy Constable Albert Murrillo of Olive and Constable Holt of Orange.

While the matter was being fought out in Justice Cox's court this morning, County Assessor James Sleeper got busy and placed an assessment against the automobiles in which the gypsies are traveling through the country. This tax amounted to approximately $60.

This afternoon the gypsies were wending their way out of the county, one member of the gang having been fined $20 and the entire party ordered to get out of the county at once.

Among those arrested were two women, both of whom were dressed in garbs of gay and flashing colors and wearing heavy bracelets of silver and long chains of the same material. The entire party gave the name of George, they being Marguerite, Barba, John, Nick, Sirso, Miller and Frank George.

LEGION HOSTS IN BATTLE TO GET NEW MEMBERS

Every service man in this vicinity a member of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion—this is the ambition of the local Post and today the membership stands divided in a good-natured contest for new members, with the losing side under obligation to provide the eats for the winning team.

At the meeting of the Post last night, Joe Ryan, city police officer, and Art Brady, salesman at the Rowley cigar stand, were chosen captains of the opposing teams. The members of Brady's team are all members whose last names start with letters between A and L and Ryan's force will be composed of men whose last name starts with letters between L and Z. The campaign is on today and continues until the next meeting of the Post one month hence.

There are now about 300 former service men identified with the local organization and it is the hope of the captains that the members will get busy and report large lists of applicants to be voted on at the next meeting.

"We want every man who has an honorable discharge from service, and who resides in this vicinity, to become identified with the Post," declared City Whitney, secretary of the Post, today. "Anyone who served in any branch of Uncle Sam's fighting forces is eligible to membership. There are enough of the returned men here to make the Post one of the most important and influential in the state, and there is no reason why we should not have a vast majority of them identified with us."

"The dues are but $2 per year, $1.50 of which goes to the state and national organizations, including subscription to the Legion periodicals. The balance of 50 cents goes into the local treasury."

Brady and Ryan today are marshaling their forces in preparation for the membership drive, and urge all members of their respective teams to get busy and bring their friends who are eligible and induce them to become members of the Post.

Appeal For Fruits
In response to requests from the Post at Oakland and the Women's Auxiliary at Alameda, a committee last night was appointed to take charge of gathering up jams, canned fruits, cookies, oranges, etc., to be sent to the wounded boys now convalescing at Letterman hospital in San Francisco. Martin Biggs, Claude Sleeper and Howard Timmons were appointed on the committee. Donations can be left with Mr. Kendall at the Santa Ana Hardware Company store.

The boys at the hospital will enjoy fruits and home-made delicacies and an appeal is made to the women of this city to make liberal contributions. The committee will not be in position to make a personal appeal. It will take charge of the packing and shipment of the contributions left at the hardware store. Many women of the North have made liberal donations, and now the appeal is being sent throughout the state.

Entertain with Sports
As an incident of the meeting last night, several impromptu boxing matches among local knights of the squared ring were indulged in. There were some good exhibitions of sparring, some of the men proving very clever with the gloves.

Frank and Martin Biggs put on a funny stunt, boxing blindfolded. Each carried a baby rattle, and one was able to determine the location of the other by noise of the rattle. They fanned the air with some terrific punches, but failed to land very hard on each other's anatomy. It was a mirth-provoking set-to and afforded no little amusement to the former real fighters behind the death dealing instruments. Uncle Sam provided them with when they were either training in camps or in the real battle zones looking for the enemy.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quart glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisulphate of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

ON YOUR GUARD!

Little attempt seems to have been made to camouflage or conceal the purposes of the California Commercial Federation, yet there seems to be a general misunderstanding as to what those purposes are, and a general lack of information as to just who is putting up the money for the expensive campaign of propaganda instituted and carried on by the Federation.

Originally, the Federation was fathered by the Los Angeles Times. It has the support of moneyed interests largely centering in Los Angeles. Fundamentally, its purpose is to control legislation. This purpose is frankly admitted by the Federation, was plainly apparent in its activities at the last legislative session, when it maintained a bureau at Sacramento, and is clearly to be seen in the announcement of its program for the coming campaign for the election of legislators in this state.

In addresses here, representatives of the Federation declared that the Federation proposes to build up an organization to foster certain legislation, prevent the passage of legislation that it considers inimical to business, and to do away with legislation that it does not like "because it fetters business and discourages enterprise."

Unquestionably some good work could be done along this line, but also unquestionably a great deal of harm could be done and likely will be done if the voters of the state do not stand constantly on guard. There is just enough merit in this Commercial Federation proposition to make it dangerous. Its sponsors declare that it is organized to represent "business." We believe that one may safely add a word and say that it is organized to represent "big business."

It aims to do away with some, possibly all of the laws that the people of California through the Johnson administration saw fit to put on the statute books of the state. Its speakers declare that California's restraint on corporations has prevented worth while enterprises from coming to this state. One aim, without doubt, is to clear the boards of the blue sky laws, enacted to protect people against fake stock-selling schemes. This same law requires any corporation desiring to do business in the state to lay its cards on the table before a corporation commissioner, who has the power to refuse a license to do business if he thinks the concern unsound.

Just what the Federation proposes to do has not been announced in detail, but there is good reason to believe that it gets a chance it will wreck the workmen's compensation insurance law, and put the initiative and referendum on the shelf. Probably it is hoped to run a knife up to the hilt into the direct primary.

The Federation is endeavoring to build up a machine much along the lines of the old-time machine that was put in the discard in California when Hiram Johnson was elected governor. By financing campaigns, by fathering candidacies, and by the forcing of pledges it is endeavoring to elect legislators who will take orders. This Federation had a group of Los Angeles legislators at the last session of the legislature who were beholden to it. That group had less of independence of thought and action than any other group of men in the legislature.

The Federation has appeared in Orange county fathering a county organization through which it hopes, no doubt, to spread its propaganda. Its principal activity, however, is centered right now upon securing signatures to an initiative petition seeking a constitutional amendment by which the number of signatures necessary to put a taxation measure on the ballot shall be raised from eight per cent to twenty-five per cent. Shoved to the foreground as the reason for this initiative measure, is the fact that so long as the number of petitioners required for getting a measure on the ballot is only eight per cent of the vote cast at the last preceding general election the advocates of the single tax can get that measure on the ballot at every general election. The Federation points out that it takes a lot of money every two years to defeat the single-tax measure, and that the only way to put an end to the fight is to make the initiative law inoperative so far as the single-tax is concerned.

If people of the state want to dislodge the single-tax measure in that way, the Register has no objections to offer, so far as the single-tax is concerned. However, it does desire to point out, so that what we do in the matter may not be done blindly, that the initiative measure designed to put the skids under the single-taxers also puts the skids under the people of the state of California who may at any time in the future desire to initiate some other taxation measure. If the percentage is raised to twenty-five per cent, the difficulty of getting such a large number of signatures to a petition will mean that the initiative, so far as taxation is concerned, will be as dead as it was before Hiram Johnson was elected governor. It will be dead, because thereafter it will take a twenty-five per cent petition to revive it.

The public is entitled to an unbiased legal report on the measure before the voters are asked to sign their names to the petition. If the measure gets on the ballot, as it no doubt will, and carries, as it may, it will kill the single-tax. What else will it do?

It is argued that, from a general political point of view, it may be well for Orange county to "throw in" with Los Angeles. Frankly, the Register can't see that such a "throw in" would be advisable in any way. The California Commercial Federation is extending its organization into Orange county for the purpose of bettering itself, not for any help it may be to Orange county. If it be true, as we are informed, that the California Commercial Federation bureau at Sacramento a year ago, at the behest of the gun clubs, passed out word to its subservient legislators to vote against Orange county's artesian well bill, a water conservation measure, it would be well for us to go a bit slow about tying up too tightly with the Federation. Rather, let us send legislators to Sacramento who will use their own brains instead of those furnished by a bureau.

The Register has felt for several years that there are a number of amendments that ought to be made to better some of the legislation of the Johnson administration. In fact, many amendments have been made and more ought to be made. But it must be obvious to all clear-thinking, forward-looking voters that every organized effort that may develop into a wholesale attack upon the Johnson administrative measures ought to be watched with careful and discriminating eyes by the people of California, lest the ground gained by them in the last ten years be lost.

Political Pick-Ups

Word of the daily increasing popularity of Senator Hiram W. Johnson throughout the east and middle west, where he is being acclaimed as the best man for the presidency, is brought to California by Herbert A. Kidder, an old-time Sacramento, who is in that city on one of his regular visits from New York, where his business interests hold him. Kidder at one time was deputy county clerk in Sacramento. During the last six months he has been watching the rapid growth of Johnson's popularity throughout the east and middle west and he states that so great has Johnson's fame spread, he believes his chances for the presidential nomination by the Republicans are excellent.

Oscar Lawler has announced that under no circumstances will he be a candidate for United States senator. It looks now as if the contest in the Republican primaries will be a three-cornered one, with William Kent, A. J. Wallace and E. A. Meserve in the race. The Anti-Saloon League is backing Wallace and is organizing strong support for him.

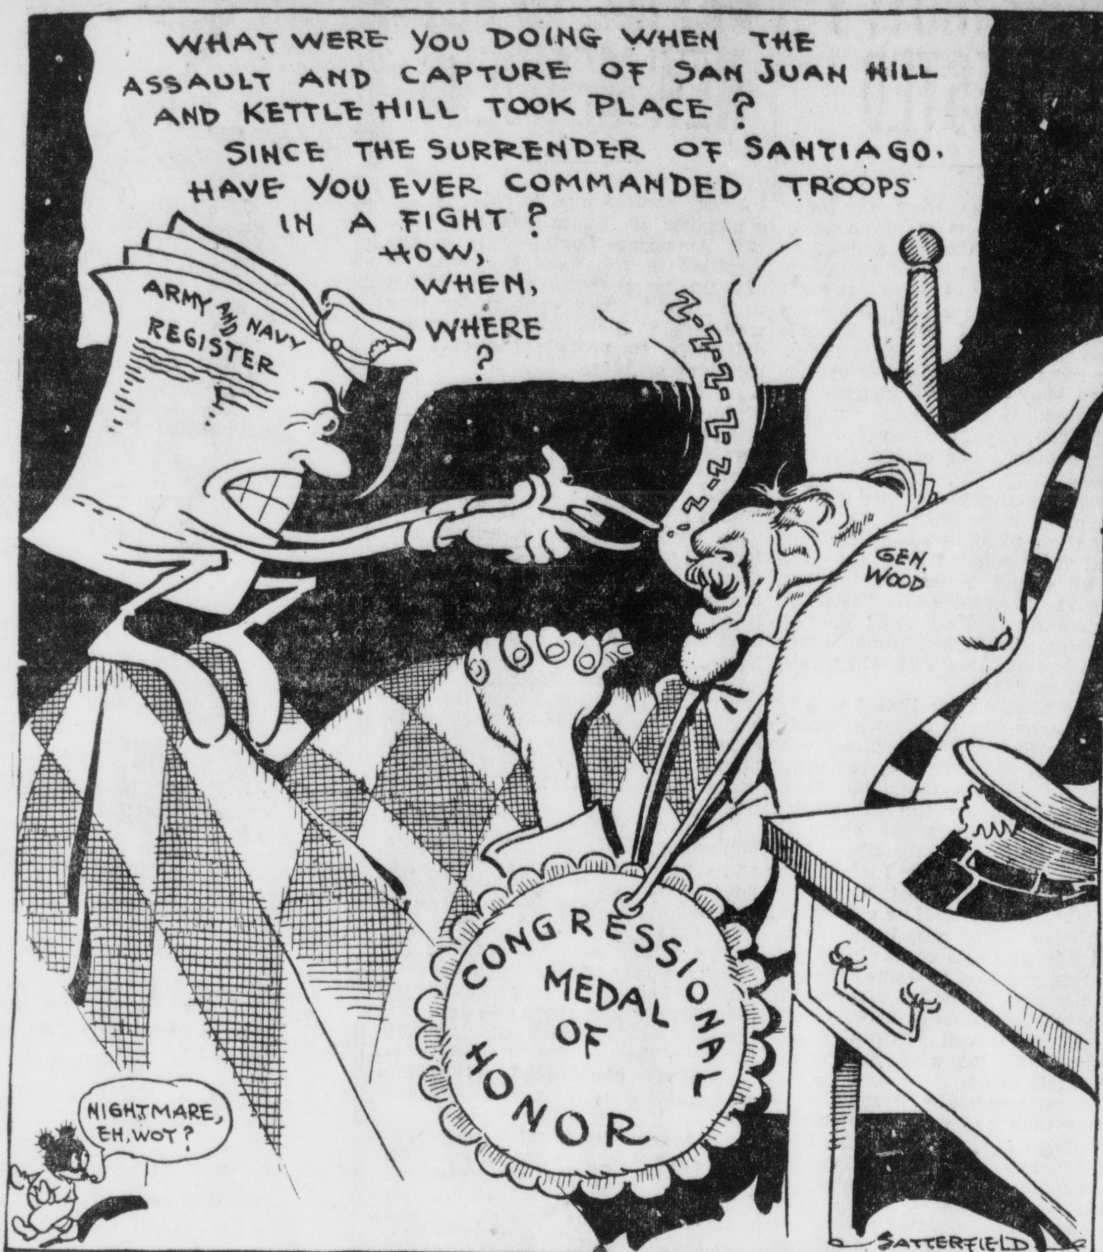

Roosevelt has more posthumous friends than any other man who ever lived. Senator Hiram Johnson declared in a speech in South Dakota. The senator was commenting cynically upon the unanimity with which candidates for the Republican nomination for the presidency today are professing loyalty to the great ex-president. He characterized the present campaign as a campaign "in memoriam." "Those of us who followed him in fair weather and in foul, when he won and when he lost, in prosperity and adversity, are somewhat astonished today," he said, "to see so many gentlemen who now think so much of his works, but of whom we never heard in those times of stress when he was fighting against tremendous odds for good government."

"Tanglefoot" Law

Fresno Republican
If a thief breaks into your cellar and steals your booze, he can be punished if caught. A more difficult problem and to some grievous victims a more serious one is the question whether you can get back the booze, if found. It is against the law to transport the liquor, and the liquor is contraband and subject to confiscation anywhere except in your house. If the thief takes it out of your house, the question is whether his crime gives you the right to commit the other crime of transporting it back to your house, if found. If the liquor is subject to confiscation anywhere except in your house, the question is whether it becomes exempt from that confiscation by the fact that its presence outside your house is without your knowledge or consent and against your will. It is one of the puzzles with which the courts will have to wrestle.

Campaign Dreams---No. 3

Johnson Sounds Battle Cry

In a speech at Mitchell, S. D., Sen. Hiram Johnson of California opened fire in characteristic fashion upon his leading opponents for the Republican nomination for the presidency, charging that the expenditure of money in the South Dakota primary is such as has seldom been seen in any campaign in any state.

"It is obvious," said the Senator, "that this state has become a tremendous battleground of the wealth and power and financial resources of my opponents."

Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois are the conceded leaders in South Dakota.

"Seldom in any state has such an extravagant expenditure of money in a primary campaign been seen. I cannot compete with them in this kind of contest. It may be their good fortune and my misfortune that they can expend in all directions enormous sums of money and that I cannot. I have back of me no great corporation, no trust, no powerful financial interests. In this commonwealth I am pitting whatever of ability, of courage, of energy and of character God has given me, against the wealth, the influence and the power of organized politics and organized big business in politics. I am depending here, as ever in my political contests, upon the home loving, God fearing, free, patriotic citizenship, the inarticulate mass who make this country great and insure its future destiny."

In discussing the problems of the high cost of living, for which he declared, no man has discovered a panacea, Senator Johnson denounced the profiteer as a traitor.

"I cannot cure the high cost of living," he said. "You cannot cure it. But we can run the scale scientifically from the original producer to the ultimate consumer, and when we ascertain where the profiteering is, we will take the profiteer and treat him as the traitor he is and punish him as he ought to be punished. Perhaps then we can stop something of the high cost of living."

The Senator said it was "impossible to bury the American flag and make the American people walk over its grave without its becoming an issue in the American campaign."

"I do not care what politicians may assert," he continued, "the issue is here right now, and the issue will be with the American people until they themselves decide it. Why should not American men and women decide whether the American youth shall police the world or fight for boundary lines in Europe and Asia? Who else shall decide when our blood is to be devoted to quarrels not our own?"

The Senator said he had no apologies to make for talking about the League of Nations.

"The difficulty is that some of our friends are willing that Europe should decide this issue, while we insist that America must decide it," he asserted.

He said that he would go to any length to prevent war and that he favored an international forum to international opinion, but that he would never subscribe to a pact which binds American boys to go to the four corners of the globe to settle foreign disputes.

With throbs as of thunder beats,
With leaping rhythms and vast, is swirled
Through the shaken lengths of her veined streets . . .
She pulses, the heart of a world!

I have thrilled with her ecstasy, agony, woe—
Hath she a mood that I do not know?
The winds of her music tumultuous have seized me and swayed me,
Have lifted, have swung me around
In the whorls as of cyclonic sound:
Her passions have torn me and tossed me and swayed me;
Drunken and tranced and dazzled with visions and gleams,

I have spun with her dervish priests;
I have searched to the souls of her hunted beasts
And found love sleeping there;
I have soared on the wings of her flashing dreams;
I have sunk with her dull despair;
I have sweated with her travails and cursed with her pains;
I have swelled with her foolish pride;
I have raged through a thick red mist at one with her branded Cains,
With her broken Christs have died.

O beautiful half-god city of visions and love!
O hideous half-brute city of hate!
O wholly human and baffled and passionate town!
The throes of thy burrowing, stress of thy fight,
Thy bitter, blind struggle to gain for thy body a soul,
I have known, I have felt, and been shaken thereby!
Wakened and shaken and broken,
For I hear in thy thunders terrific that throb through thy rapid veins
The beat of the heart of a world.

FLOCK IS MOVED TO TEARS BY EVANGELIST

The revival services at Spurgeon Memorial grow in interest and the people were stirred last night by the sermon of Dr. H. W. Bromley on the subject of punishment. He used as the basis of his address "In hell he lifted up his eyes" and one of his clinching assertions was "that if there was no future punishment, for those out of harmony with God's laws, then Christ's teachings were untrue."

"If after death we are conscious of having been responsible for the failure of others, that will be the most horrible of punishments," the preacher said.

He said "that we didn't like the doctrine of damnation, and we would like for the preacher always to preach only the doctrine of love, but man, being a creature of free will and responsible for his conduct here, the plan of God and justice demands punishment for his failure to meet God's requirements."

Several times during the discourse last night the audience was treated to bits of humor by Dr. Bromley, and in the closing of the sermon he recited instances of sacrifices to save the lives of others that brought tears to nearly all the entire congregation.

The crowd had a rare treat in the solo by H. A. Backmeyer, and the choir seemed at its best.

An after-meeting was had for the purpose of laying plans for furthering the campaign, and arrangements were made for the distribution of cards advertising the meeting for men and boys Sunday afternoon at 2:15.

A meeting for women and girls will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Hurling the discus 120 feet 5 inches, Hartrant, of the Fullerton High school, took first place in this event in a four-cornered meet on the Pomona track. The Los Angeles High school track squad made 63.14 points, the Pomona freshmen 30.34, Fullerton 29 and Pomona High 20.

Lou Guernsey was defending one party to an auto collision and was cross examining a lady witness who was undeniably pretty.

"Have you any idea what caused the accident?" thundered Lou.

"I think so," said the fair witness sweetly.

"Then tell the court how it happened," thundered Lou, eager for facts.

"Must I tell the truth?"

"You have sworn to do so."

"Well, sir, I was standing on the corner, and that gentleman turned to look at something and ran into the other machine."

"Ah," divined the astute Guernsey. "He turned to look at you. That makes you an accessory before the fact, madame."

"I—I think it was the accessories he was looking at," murmured the witness.—Argonaut.

Book Review Club

That a high order of excellence has characterized the programs of the Book Review Club this year is quite generally recognized, and this reputation for excellence of work was abundantly sustained at the last regular monthly meeting of the club held recently when Mrs. Robert C. Northcross of the high school and junior college faculty discussed the subject of Walt Whitman and his poetry. In forceful, graceful diction, at times epigrammatic, Mrs. Northcross told the story of the poet's life, analyzed his literary characteristics, and pointed out the elements of strength and weakness both in the man and his writings.

Last year the centenary of Whitman was celebrated, and sixty-five years ago his chief work, "Leaves of Grass," was published. It was badly printed, badly bound, and did not have the author's name on the title page, but contained his picture and was copyrighted in his name. Walt Whitman himself was the author, and it was a poor job. Presentation copies were sent to well-known literary people. The periodicals as one man condemned it—an "arrogant, incredible performance." Most copies sent to literary men were returned to the author, but Emerson wrote a letter of appreciation, which Whitman, in very poor taste, published. This scandalized his friends, and Emerson's use of his letter greatly incensed Emerson.

Up to this time America had felt that its poets were cultured. Poe, Hawthorne, Lowell, Emerson, even though not as great as the poets of England, Americans were pleased with themselves and into this atmosphere and attitude of culture came Walt Whitman talking about physiology in the coarsest phrases. America was scandalized and ashamed.

However, the book began to have friends. It breathed forth the spirit of democracy. Thoreau said it was "coarse, but sweet of soul" and spoke of the author as "a man much prized by his friends."

"I breathe the atmosphere of myself," wrote Whitman, "and I like it." "I sound my barbaric yawp over the world." It is this "barbaric yawp" that outraged the sensibility of the decent world. It is physiology from top to toe. But this "barbaric yawp" is not all of his poems. Tucked in with it are things that have to do with the universe, the big things, the systems beyond systems, that take you away from the petty and give you the sweep of vision that "looks over the roofs of the world."

And there was his vision of the brotherhood of all—the spirit that connects all social workers. "By God you shall not go down!" There was his deep sympathy in the sense of suffering with the fighting Civil War he served as nurse in the hospitals, but never joined the fighting forces. He dressed wounds, comforted the suffering, and they died in his arms. This love of service is the part we like to dwell upon.

Ten years before his death, Walt Whitman suffered a stroke of paralysis. We might have expected this to make him rebellious, he who had spoken to every rebel, but he remained singularly serene. He speaks of the "found heart still beating in my breast," although it is hard to see how he could be found in a paralyzed body. He wanted to live.

A certain kind of cultivation he had, but he had a glaring lack of cultivation in many parts of his "Leaves of Grass." He was not a cultivated man; he was not a gentleman, thirsting for life, scaling mountains, exploring rivers, like one racing along, shouting in joyous living. "Gladness has gone with me all the way," he declared.

He kept a diary and wrote several bulky volumes of prose, but his chief work is "Leaves of Grass," which he kept adding to as time went on. Whitman had a deep sense of the divine. A universe implies a maker and an ordered universe implies a pilot. He looked forward, not back to the past. He detested Tennyson. He discarded rhyme and meter. He put women on an absolute equality with men, but there is only one reference to women that is not an insult.

Whitman seeks to express all humanity by expressing himself. He wants in this way to express brotherhood, democracy and America. "But," said Mrs. Northcross, "he has exhaustively expressed Walt Whitman. I deny that Whitman represents me or men and women I know and associate with. He was not an average man. The average man is not a man irresponsible to his obligations. He failed in representing the average man. He did succeed in representing the brotherhood of man.

He wanted to express America to Americans, but he presented only one set of people. He tried to speak for and to the common people only. But he is rejected by the common people. He despised the cultivated classes, but it was the cultivated classes who rescued him from oblivion. "Back to Nature" is his cry. He girdles in the animal. But today's thinking is away from Nature, away from her methods, away from her cruelty, her instincts. Away from Nature, this is progress. Most of all, it is the business of poets to bring us beauty. Whitman deliberately decided to put into his book nothing for beauty—and I arraign him for that! The great masters of verse have put melody and music into their thought. Whitman turned aside from the path of the masters. He could have done it; he had the power to write beautifully.

At the conclusion of this splendid review a discussion followed which brought out a variety of interesting opinion.

Jolly Weiner Bake

The Junior College of Santa Ana held a Wiener bake at the County Park Wednesday evening. Many young folks of Orange are attending the college and some of the other local young people were invited. Practically the whole faculty and some of the other local young people were invited. Practically the whole faculty and student body attended. Baseball, other sports, games and dancing were enjoyed.

1st Travelers to Meet

The First Travel Section of the Ebell Society will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. W. M. Smart, 714 North Main street.

Masonic Meeting

A called meeting of Santa Ana Chapter No. 73, R. A. M., was held last evening in Masonic hall for work in the Degree of Most Excellent Master.

Pleasant Card Party

Mrs. A. G. Flagg entertained the Five Hundred Card Club yesterday afternoon with a pleasant card party at her home, 702 South Sycamore street. First prize was awarded Mrs. J. E. Pearce, the second prize going to Mrs. Will Ward and the consolation prize to Mrs. J. H. Neale. The guest prize went to Mrs. Pearce, who is a house guest of Mrs. Pearce.

After the play, a dainty two-course luncheon was served by the hostess and was assisted by her daughters, Misses Margaret and Jimmie Flagg, and Miss Elma Neale. Those present were Mrs. J. E. Pearce, Ottman, Will Ward, C. W. Hutchings, W. R. Sylvester, Ben Nimmo, Dan Lewis and house guest Mrs. Lewis, Sr.; Russell Benedict, Chas. Artz of Tustin, R. E. Hawkins of Los Angeles, J. H. Neale, Frank Sawyer, Misses Elma Neale, Margaret Flagg, Jimmie Flagg, little Margaret Ellen Sawyer, and the hostess, Mrs. A. G. Flagg.

Intermediate P. T. A. Meeting

The Intermediate P. T. A. held an interesting meeting on Wednesday at which a great deal of business was accomplished and still leaving plenty of time for an enjoyable tea and social chat afterward.

A splendid program was enjoyed. An interesting and instructive paper on "Thrift" was read by Miss Sharp. The boys' club rendered two songs and Kenneth Norton played a violin solo and responded to an encore.

An interesting discussion was held on a number of questions out of the question box, conducted by Mrs. Thomas.

All joined in expressing many opinions bearing on the conditions and productions of the day.

The association has undertaken a very commendable work in trying to equip the school cafeteria with a new and very much needed stove.

An excellent picture show and entertainment has been planned for Friday evening at Yost's theater, a large portion of the proceeds to go to the school. The merchants of the city have generously responded to the advertising of the program and in this way have helped very substantially.

The committee gave a splendid report of work done and money on hand.

The serving of tea and cake in the cafeteria closed a very enjoyable day.

Entertains Busy Bees

A jolly afternoon was spent yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jack Miller by the members of the Busy Bee Club.

Beautiful decorations of the fragrant peach blossom, sweet peas and pink roses, all betokened that spring-time is here.

The afternoon passed pleasantly with social chat, fancy work and music. Mrs. A. B. Gardner and Mrs. George Greer rendered delightful piano selections and Mrs. Charles Johnson sweetly sang several solos, all being greatly enjoyed.

At the close, two very interesting guessing games caused much merriment. Mrs. Greer carried away the honors for getting the most words from the one word "extraordinary."

Very tempting refreshments of sandwiches, salad, cake and hot chocolate were served on attractively appointed tables. The hostess was assisted in her pleasant duties by her daughter, Miss Bertha Miller.

The members who participated in the delights of the afternoon besides the genial hostess, were Mrs. M. M. Pendleton, Will Lindsay, F. H. Sherrill, Clarence White, George N. Greer, J. P. Thompson, R. K. Torrens, Will Jerome, Charles Johnson and Mrs. A. M. Gardner and daughter Ruth. The guest of the club was Mrs. J. McQuarters of Tilden, Ill.

Spurgeon P. T. A. Meets

The Spurgeon School Parent Teachers' Association had a most successful fathers' meeting last evening. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Cood Adams. The attendance was excellent. A delightful program was enjoyed by those present. It was as follows:

America—By the audience.
Bell Solo—Harry Garstang.
Two vocal solos—Maurice Phillips.

Folk dance and game—First and second grades.

Address—Rev. W. L. H. Benton.
Reading—Mrs. Chas. F. Mitchell.
Song—First and second grades.

After the count of parents present, it was found that Miss Crawford's room would receive the treat. Mrs. Adams appointed the following committee to tie up bundles for the Armenian relief: Mrs. Lash, Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. McCarter.

The folk dance and game by the first and second grades did credit to the excellent training of Miss Crawford.

The Spurgeon Parent Teachers' Association feels that it has accomplished a great deal in that it has brought about a closer co-operation between parents and teachers.

After singing one verse of the "Star Spangled Banner," the meeting adjourned for a social hour.

Program at High School

Miss Palmer presented a varied program of readings and recitations to the students of the High School yesterday at a pay assembly.

What is classed as a wonderful classic, and a beautiful tribute to Lincoln, "Lincoln, Man of the People," was her first number.

On leaving Los Angeles, Miss Palmer was handed a little poem, which she thinks is very much worth while. The poem was written by Edgar A. Guest and is called, "The Call of the Flag."

Two stanzas of Henry Van Dyke's "An American Abroad" was followed by a recitation of Riley's humorous negro stories, "How It Happened," "Out to Old Aunt Mary's," and "Let Something Good Be Said."

"High Culture," brought a roar of laughter from the appreciative audience.

Kipling's "If," "My Bayonet" from Rhymes of a Red Cross Man, and a comical story of a Harvard student making love to an unknown lady concluded the program.

The assembly was opened with the school song sung by all the students, and led by Clarence Gustlin.

A triangle meet will be held on the field Saturday, in which Fullerton, Whittier and Santa Ana will take part. Lynn Crawford urged the student body to come out and support the fellows.

Hillard Tyrrell announced a baseball game with Orange for tonight. This is the second league game of the year and everybody was asked to attend.

The Bread of all Breads—Dragon Whole Wheat Bread.

SUMNER SHOP SPECIAL

ANTI-JAP BODY TO TALK OVER INITIATIVE

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 12.—The question of whether the initiative shall be invoked to present anti-Oriental legislation to the people at the November, 1920, election will be definitely decided at a conference of representatives of organizations throughout California, to be held in San Francisco tomorrow. The conference was called by Senator J. M. Inman, president of the California Oriental Exclusion League.

At the first conference of the organization in San Francisco several weeks ago the initiative was proposed, but a committee was appointed to wait upon Governor Stephens to ascertain his attitude relative to calling an extra session of the legislature to consider the Oriental question.

However, Governor Stephens refused to see the committee and instead issued a statement in which he said he realized the menace of the Japanese, but was waiting for the report of the State Board of Control before making a decision about calling an extra session.

"Tomorrow we will definitely decide whether the initiative shall be invoked," said Inman. "While there is a general demand for the anti-Oriental legislation as proposed by the league, the Southern California section of the Anti-Oriental Association is in favor of waiting until the regular session of the legislature if Stephens fails to call a special session."

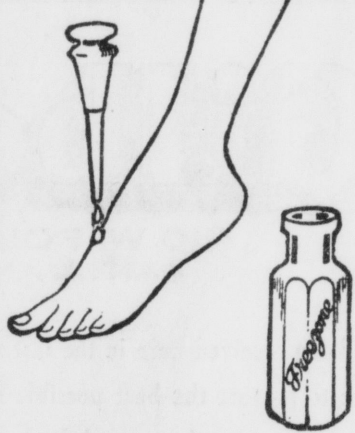

"The southern section takes the position that the vote could not be held until November, and that the legislature will meet in January, so that we would not gain much time."

"We shall consider all angles to the question and then decide. At all events we are all agreed that legislation is necessary, and that the bills will be presented."

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Browning and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Holmes have gone to Imperial Valley on a trip.

18TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY GIFT GIVEN

Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church claims he has solved the problem of how to get a crowd at a prayer meeting.

"The plan is very simple," said Rev. Oliver. "Just have your wedding anniversary come on prayer meeting night, and the folks will do the rest."

Yesterday was the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. John Oliver, and while they were at Riverside enjoying the day in their own way, members of the church "put up a job" on them, which swelled the crowd at the mid-week service considerably.

At the close of the meeting, Attorney S. M. Davis, asking the people to be seated again, proceeded to tell them that the dominie and his good wife, having traveled together for eighteen years, he had been asked on behalf of the church, to present the couple with a token of regard in hearty appreciation of their good work. He then presented Mrs. Oliver with a gift of solid silver spoons.

Both Mrs. Oliver and her husband thanked the people for their kindness, and assured them of their appreciation. But the dominie thinks the paragonage may be a more "spoony" place than ever after the experience of last night, "as this gracious act on the part of the church seems to put its approval on home love making."

The Ladies Aid Society served light refreshments after the formalities of the presentation, and the people tarried to enjoy the good fellowship of the occasion, and to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Oliver on reaching the eighteenth milestone of the blessed state of Christian matrimony.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MISS JENNINGS HELD YESTERDAY P. M.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for Miss Marion Elizabeth Jennings, who died on March 9 at the Santa Ana hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

Assisting in the services was Rev. Henry W. Bromley of Kentucky, evangelist, who is conducting a revival at the South Methodist church here. It was during a tabernacle meeting in Iowa conducted by Rev. Bromley that Miss Jennings was converted in 1916. She united with the Baptist church.

Miss Jennings, daughter of Louis R. and Jennie M. Jennings, both deceased, was born in Newark, N. J., June 22, 1899.

Miss Jennings had moved with her parents to Iowa from the East in 1904, settling in the city of Carroll, where later both parents died. She then made her home with her sister, Mrs. Grace Carlberg, of Sioux City, Iowa, from which place six weeks ago she came to Santa Ana, where she and her younger sister, who had preceded her some time before, were to make their future home with another sister, Mrs. M. G. Stevens, of 412 East Pine street.

Miss Jennings was taken to the hospital on February 28, where she underwent a successful operation. On March 9 she was being taken to her home when she suddenly collapsed. She was hurriedly returned to the hospital, where every effort was made to revive her, but with no avail. The two sisters were with her when she passed away. Her death was a severe shock to her relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held at the Smith & Tutill chapel yesterday, being conducted by the Rev.

OWNER CLAIMS MYSTERY AUTO IN CANYON

The mystery surrounding the finding of a completely wrecked five-passenger touring car in the Santa Ana canyon several days ago by Steele Finley, paving contractor, was cleared up last night when Detective Blue, of Los Angeles, accompanied by L. L. Wallace, owner of the wrecked machine, and a prisoner by the name of Honby, who is alleged to have confessed to the theft of the car, came here to identify the machine.

According to the Los Angeles police department, Honby stole the machine several weeks ago. He drove it to San Francisco and return and then, having no further use for it, decided to dispose of it by pushing it over the embankment near Sulphur Slide. It is also said that it was Honby's wife who caused him to confess to the theft of the car. He told her of what he had done, it is said, and she advised him to give himself up to the authorities and help in returning the car to its owner.

Wallace told Sheriff Jackson last night that he had driven in from Arizona in the car and that it had been stolen when he left it for a few minutes after his arrival in Los Angeles. Honby told the authorities he had disposed of the top of the machine some place between Los Angeles and Fullerton. A search was made for it by the party on their way down from Los Angeles but it could not be found.

Wallace was able to identify what was left of the automobile and it was released to him by Jackson.

CELEBRATION OF NEW LIGHTS IS ORANGE PLAN

ORANGE, Mar. 12.—When the new Orange ornamental street lighting system is completed and ready for use, probably in May, this city is going to have a community celebration which is expected to surpass anything of the kind ever held here. This decision was reached at the Merchants' association meeting, the plan being not only to celebrate the completion of the lighting system, but to direct attention of outsiders to the fact that Orange is entering upon an extensive program of public improvements, including a new city hall, much street paving, and probably before many months substantial enlargements of the high school plant.

A committee consisting of J. W. Morrison, A. Dittmer, F. E. Hallman, W. J. Snow and K. E. Watson was appointed by President L. M. Darnwood to take charge of the proposed celebration, with authority to appoint other committees to co-operate in the plan.

The Merchants also adopted a resolution congratulating the city trustees on their stand for more public improvements and assuring the board of their support.

The subject of equalizing assessments in the city was discussed at length, it being the general opinion that the present method of assessing is antiquated and unsuitable to the city's needs. A committee to consult with the city clerk and city trustees was authorized by the meeting.

A resolution of sympathy for Chas. Ramsey, a member of the association, who recently was bereaved in the loss of his wife, was adopted.

Henry Seidel, of the Gem Market, has blossomed out as a big ranch owner, and this afternoon D. A. McNairn is on his way to Chico to assume the management of Seidel's big holdings near that place. Seidel recently acquired a ranch of 160 acres out about twelve miles from Chico, in a location that is famous as one of the points of the first discovery of gold in this state. There are about eighty acres of cherry, pear and apple trees on the place, the ages of the trees ranging from one year to six. The balance of the tract is heavy timbered land.

The location is in a fork of the Feather river near the point where gold was early discovered, and which in its day was one of the big points of interest to the pioneers who came into the state in the days of '49.

Seidel recently went to Chico in company with McNairn and was not long in making a decision that the place there offered an opportunity for an investment, with the district rapidly developing into one of importance as a deciduous fruit section. Introduction of irrigation has wrought a wonderful change in that section.

For five or six years prior to six months ago, McNairn was employed by the Irvine Company on the Irvine ranch, having charge of men in their work on portions of the ranch under direct operation by the company. He formerly lived in the north end of the state and is well acquainted with conditions obtaining in the vicinity of Chico and with the requirements for successful propagation of fruits.

He expects to develop a great property for Seidel, whose investment, it is reported, represents about $20,000.

ASSOCIATIONS SEEN TO GIVE SERVICE AS TO PRICES

Bee Men Shown Rates Upon Foods Boosted Little by Mutual Bodies

That co-operative marketing associations are rendering patriotic service to the nation by keeping the prices of their products as low as possible while at the same time stimulating production and helping farmers and other producers to secure reasonable returns was brought out at the annual meeting of the Orange County Honey Producers' Co-operative Exchange, held here recently at the court house.

Convincing facts were presented showing that the increases in the price of foods marketed through co-operative associations have been very small, while enormous advances have been made in the prices of other commodities which are sold under circumstances permitting of speculation and kindred evils.

The meeting was exceptionally well attended, and was live and absorbing from start to finish. Considerable interest was manifested in an address made by Chas. B. Justice, manager of the California Honey Producers' Co-operative Exchange, who, together with two other representatives from the home office, C. G. Standford and A. J. Olsen, drove from Los Angeles especially to attend the meeting.

1919 Crop Sold
Justice explained that almost all of the honey of last year's crop had been cleaned up and at mutually satisfactory prices, and that the exchange hoped very soon to be able to make final arrangements to members. He also advised the practice of economy and warned against the danger of certain radical measures and the necessity to progress, step by step, in the exchange work, pointing out the dangers of any radical changes in policy at any time.

It was clear, by the attitude shown, that the majority of those present agreed with Manager Justice, and that they intend to give him wholehearted support in carrying on his duties as general manager.

This spirit was further demonstrated by the unanimous election of George J. Brown and Wayland H. Crawford, delegates to the meeting of the California Honey Producers' Co-operative Exchange, to be held March 29. These two men are both business men, who are thoroughly in accord with the policies of the present management of the exchange.

Order Cans, Cases.
Another important matter taken up at the meeting was the ordering of cans and cases for this year's honey crop. It was decided, as a measure of economy, to order a carload of cases in shock form to be stored in Santa Ana and made up when needed. A considerable saving in freight will thus be effected.

C. G. Standford of Los Angeles, assistant to Manager Justice, was called upon, and spoke on the necessity of loyalty and unified action on the part of all members.

At the close of the meeting an interesting talk on the value of advertising was given by A. J. Olsen, of Los Angeles.

Political Pot Boils As Registration Of Voters Nears End

Every incorporated city in Orange county inside of Santa Ana will hold its municipal elections April 12. Registration for these elections ends tonight at midnight. Wednesday and Thursday County Clerk Backs and his deputies were kept busy registering those who had "put it off" until "the last minute" and today the rush continued. Field deputies were just as busy.

Saturday morning the field deputies will begin bringing their books in to the county clerk's office and within a few days after that Backs will be able to give some definite figures as to what the registration has been. These books will also serve as a means of getting a fair idea as to what the population in these districts will be.

During the past few days politics has been "warming up" in the cities in which elections are to be held and the registration is expected to be heavy in all these districts.

TO NAME CHAIRMAN AT ORANGE IN BIG JEWISH AID DRIVE

Impressed with the necessity of Southern California assisting in the relief work for the starving Jews overseas, Gov. Wm. D. Stephens has issued a proclamation urging that prompt and liberal response be made to the call for financial assistance, and has officially designated the week of March 28-April 4 as Jewish Relief Week. His proclamation follows:

"There exists today amongst the Jewish people throughout Poland and other war devastated sections the most appalling conditions of destitution and starvation in the world's history.

"Heretofore, the Jews of our land have not asked assistance in caring for the wants of their needy, but this time the task is too great for them to shoulder alone.

"The Jewish people responded nobly during the great war, and gave liberally of their money, time and men to assist the Allied cause. They have proven themselves good Americans, and have shown beyond a doubt that they appreciate the freedom and privileges enjoyed by free citizens of this great republic.

"To expedite the raising of funds, I hereby designate the dates of March 28 to April 4, inclusive, as official Jewish War Relief Week for Southern California, and I urge our people to do as well as they have done in all other worthy campaigns, contribute liberally to this fund for the Jewish War sufferers of the old world."

In preparation for bringing Orange county into line to do its full share in offering succor to the millions of Jews who are starving in their native lands, Dr. C. E. Kellogg and Manager Shaw of the Orange county campaign for the Jewish Relief Drive, today devoted some effort to securing an organization at Orange, devoting themselves principally to the securing of a chairman for the district.

It is planned to have a chairman in every district in the county and during the intensive campaign to "carry on" on the lines used during the Liberty Loan drives.

In assigning quotas throughout Southern California, Orange county has been given the sum of $25,000. Chairman Kellogg hopes to be able to raise this amount in the week's drive and will make every endeavor to put the drive over with a bang, so as to avoid a long, drawn out campaign. To do this it will be necessary for everyone to give prompt consideration to the personal solicitation of Orange county residents.

It is a wonderful prospect for this year, it is the belief of the chairman that they will respond readily to the appeal for financial assistance so necessary to save the starving Jews.

Six million of them in Poland, Lithuania, Galicia, Palestine, Turkey and Siberia are dying of starvation. Thousands of refugees are returning to their homelands and thousands are wandering homeless, hungry and in rags. Their countrymen in America gave freely of their finances, and thousands of them took up arms against the common enemy during the world war. The sentiment prevails that the people of this country should demonstrate their appreciation of the loyalty of the Jews in the United States in supporting the government in its campaign to free the world of the terrors of Hunism.

Heretofore the Jewish people have taken care of their own without appealing to the general public for assistance, but the present task is beyond their capabilities. Without the assistance asked, thousands will go hungry and without clothes to hide their nakedness and keep them warm, while other thousands will succumb to the most horrible of all deaths—starvation.

SO. CAL. EDISON SILENT DUMPING PLAN RAISES STORM AT NEWPORT

Hearing in L. A. March 25; Deimling Explains the Reasons Why

Some of the reasons for the Southern California Edison company's application to the Railroad Commission for an emergency increase in its electric rate throughout Orange county and the rest of the territory which this company serves, were given the Register today by W. L. Deimling, district agent of the company with headquarters in Santa Ana. Should any consumer desire more specific information, and will call or telephone, Deimling will be glad to answer any questions they may ask.

The public hearing on the application will take place at the commission's office in the Union League Building in Los Angeles on the 25th of March, but District Agent W. L. Deimling wishes to give all of the company's consumers in this vicinity the fullest possible information concerning the facts which the company will present to the regulating body in its request for relief.

Power Shortage a Menace

Expressing the belief that the people will realize the great menace to the prosperity of the country which would result from a power shortage and calling attention to the action of the State Water Commission in view of the conditions, Deimling explained a few of the effects that would result if the company were forced to curtail generation and limit production of foodstuffs and cut the output of industrial products. He said that one hundred thousand horsepower of energy is necessary for the irrigation of the five million acres of land under cultivation in the territory served by the Southern California Edison Company. Without some measure of relief, the company would probably have to reduce the supply of energy for irrigating purposes by one half and thus restrict the production from over two hundred thousand acres of cultivated land.

"The productiveness of each acre is estimated by experts to average one hundred dollars," said Deimling. "Thus it would appear that a power shortage would mean a loss to the agricultural community of the Edison lines of twenty million dollars during the ensuing year."

Would Affect Industrials
"The effect upon manufacturing," said Mr. Deimling, "would be fully as serious and perhaps even more far reaching, because it would result in throwing out of work thousands of bread winners by the partial or total shutting down of many factories, and this in turn would have its effect upon merchants and industrial enterprises in every form of industrial activities."

"Just at this time, the manufacturers in Southern California are increasing in number, and what the country has long been looking for is coming to pass.

"If the growth of manufacturing in Southern California were to be even temporarily suspended during the coming summer months, it would be a blow which might take years to overcome. There is an enormous demand for houses, the building industry is taxed to the limit, and the number of workmen employed in the building trades is very large. A power shortage would have the effect of cutting down building activities fifty per cent."

Sums Up
In conclusion, Mr. Deimling explained that the company had done everything in its power to meet the demand for its electric product at present rates, but a water shortage, along with the period of war embargo on the machinery necessary to go on with electrical construction; the absence of the man-power of the country in the army, and since the Armistice a succession of strikes in the bringing in of two hydro-electric properties which were expected to be in service early this summer, were conditions which no amount of forethought could have anticipated or averted. The company is desirous of crowding the work upon additional hydro-electric plants in 1921—but this cannot be done unless it is placed in a position to finance the development work, by obtaining the necessary increase in its earnings to cover the present extraordinary operating expenses.

Refuses Applications
As indicating how the power shortage is affecting Orange county, Deimling said he has been forced to turn down every new application for electric energy made in the last six weeks and would have to keep refusing new business all through the summer. Over the entire system, he said, the business of furnishing 3,000 horsepower a week in being offered the Edison company, but all these applications are declined because there is not enough energy to supply them.

An emergency increase in rate, which would probably absorb the surcharge which the company has been collecting for several months past, is necessary in order for the company to show an earning capacity.

First Nations League Conference Held at St. James' Palace, London

Asks Information Before Deciding Building Project

LONDON, Mar. 12.—It was regarded as an epochal event when the first League of Nations conference opened here.

Many photographers, representing news agencies with a world-wide clientele, were present to record the conference, which was held at St. James' palace.

Among the notable diplomats were: M. Matsui of Japan; Balfour of England; M. Bourgeois of France; Sir Eric Drummond, secretary of the League; M. Ferraris of Italy and M. Quinones de Leon of Spain.

The boy left home Wednesday afternoon, saying he was going to hunt coyotes. He carried a .32-caliber rifle and ammunition. He did not return. Since the boy is afflicted with peculiarly brittle bones, it was feared he had suffered a fracture.

When the search was on yesterday afternoon Joseph Zimmerman of El Toro, returned home from San Juan Capistrano. He knew nothing about any lost boy until he heard talk of it at the store.

"Who is lost?" inquired I. "Carl Conway," was the reply.

"Why, I saw him in the depot at Capistrano this morning about 9 o'clock, and supposed he was waiting for a train to El Toro."

A message to San Juan Capistrano soon brought the additional information that he had bought a ticket to San Diego. He had no rifle with him then, and it is supposed that he hid it or sold it.

Other information secured here leaves no doubt but that the boy planned to run away from home. The police at San Diego have been notified to locate him.

NEW W. O. W. OFFICERS ANAHEIM, Mar. 12.—Woodmen of the World installed officers Thursday night as follows: C. C. U. S. Amack; adviser, F. A. Backs, Jr.; banker, B. V. Beebe; clerk, I. G. Erickson; escort, I. Kelly; I. G. Frank Booth; managers, F. A. Backs and L. Z. Kroeger.

BUYING OF TICKET ENDS MYSTERY OF HIS COYOTE HUNT

EL TORO, Mar. 12.—Carl Conway, aged 14, son of Geo. Conway, was not found dead or disabled in the foothills east of El Toro. It was learned, however, after scores of men and boys had searched for him, that he bought a ticket at San Juan Capistrano for San Diego.

GIVES CENSUS REPORT UPON THE TELEPHONES

According to the report about to be issued by the Bureau of the Census, showing the results of the census of telephones covering the year 1917, there are 53,234 separate telephone systems and lines. These lines and systems operated 28,827,188 miles of wire in the United States—enough to girdle the earth at the equator 1157 times—and connected 11,716,520 telephones and 21,175 public exchanges. The messages or "talks" sent over these wires aggregated the stupendous total of nearly 22,000,000,000 or, to be exact, 21,845,722,335. Figured on the estimated population of the country in 1917, this gives 211 messages per annum to every man, woman and child.

The industry in 1917 gave employment to 232,629 persons, of whom 171,119, or over 65 per cent, were women. The sum paid out in salaries and wages amounted to $175,670,449. These employees operated plants and equipment valued at $1,492,329,015, which yielded operating and non-operating revenues of $391,499,531.—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

PLACENTIA RANCH SOLD TO SWEETERS

PLACENTIA, Mar. 12.—B. C. Baxter has closed a deal for the sale of his ranch south of town to R. A. Sweeters of Anaheim.

The property consists of 20 acres, 17 of which are planted in valencias, and the purchase price was in the neighborhood of $50,000. Mr. Sweeters will make his home on the ranch and is contemplating a number of improvements. Mr. Baxter will continue to live in Placentia and will be busy in a few weeks on the new building which he and Horace Lucy are planning to erect.

COFFMAN PUBLISHES ILLUSTRATED ISSUE

W. P. Coffman, formerly connected with the Blade of this city in the capacity of foreman and well known singer and director of the First Methodist choir, is now owner and publisher of the Burbank Review, at Burbank, Cal.

He has just issued a special edition of thirty-two pages, containing pictures and writings of the Burbank district. The edition is printed on high grade paper, the mechanical work offering conclusive evidence that Coffman has a well-equipped newspaper plant.

It is a good booster edition for the district in which it is published, containing a fund of information as to the development and opportunities there, with the descriptive material written and displayed in a most attractive manner. Its circulation among eastern people should be encouraged by residents of Burbank.

CIVIC LEAGUE OPENS WAR ON HIGH PRICE OF 'SPUDS'

Beach Members Backing Up Angelenos In Move to Force Down Cost

Just like Humpty Dumpty who sat on the wall, the common, ordinary, garden variety of "spud," better known as the Irish potato, is due for a fall at Newport Beach beginning March 17. On and after that date, potatoes will be taboo on Newport Beach tables if the Women's Civic League, recently organized at that place, has anything to say in the matter. It might better be said, however, that "spuds" will be due for a fall if the people of Newport Beach follow the recommendations of the league, for the women have already had their say in the matter, and they spoke in no uncertain terms.

Mrs. W. W. Bennett, chairman of the economic committee of the league, urged the adoption of the boycott plan. Mrs. Bennett, who, before coming to Newport Beach, was closely connected with the wholesale and retail produce business in the East, declared that the present price of potatoes is not due to a natural increase but to the fact that foreigners, principally Japanese, are in control of potato production in the state.

Mrs. D. D. Driggers, whose husband is in the grocery business at Balboa, was of the opinion grocery-men would support such a boycott. She said that because of the increase in the wholesale price of potatoes there was but little profit to the grocer in handling potatoes at this time. A committee was appointed to interview the various grocers and notify them that it is not the intention of the league to do them an injustice.

The "spud" boycott at Newport is the result of action taken by the Los Angeles District, Federated Women's Clubs, at its annual convention, March 3-6, when a boycott for that district was endorsed and all of the women's organizations of the state asked to join the movement.

According to Mrs. C. F. Crose of Santa Ana, president of the Orange county federation, there is little likelihood that a "spud" boycott will be launched here. She said the matter had never been discussed in the county organization and that as far as she knew none of the local organizations had considered the matter.

Shima Cited
It was pointed out to the women at Newport Beach this week that early in January, George Shima, a Jap, who controls practically 85 per cent of the potato output of the state, told the Federal Fair Price Committee sitting in Los Angeles that an early drop in the price of potatoes could be expected in a short time. Despite this statement by the man who controls the potato crop, the price of spuds has been continually going upward, it was stated.

Headed by Mrs. Della M. Corwin, leader of the Los Angeles boycott against potatoes at 8 cents a pound, a delegation of women was expected to wait upon Mayor Snyder today, asking him to issue a proclamation "calling on everybody to plant a peace garden and a garden to bring down the high prices of garden stuffs."

"We want everybody in Los Angeles to plant a peace garden."

THE MARKETS

L. A. PRODUCE MARKET

Under an active demand and movement, the general trend on the local produce market was upward during yesterday's session, with all lines of offerings showing strength. Carlot arrivals were limited. Country receipts were heavier, but had no tendency to weaken the market. Onions made sharp advances. Stocks held by local dealers are cleaning up rapidly, and it is the belief that the bulk of the supplies will be moved before the new stock from the Imperial Valley, due toward the latter part of April, begins to arrive. Stockton white globes yesterday were bringing from $7 to $8 per hundred, with few offerings selling as low as $6.75, the low range of the preceding day's market. A few dealers were offering white globes in lug boxes at prices ranging from $1.25 to $1.40 per box. Yellows and browns were moving mostly at $6 per hundred, the top price of Wednesday's market. By the lug, the latter varieties sold at $1.50 to $2 an increase of 25 cents per lug box. Cauliflower was 25 cents per hundred lower, but the low priced stock was mostly of very poor quality, fancy grades holding firm and unchanged. Cabbage was scarce and the market displayed an upward trend, the range for fancy stock yesterday being from $3.25 to $3.50 per field crate. The lettuce market showed a very wide range, due to the great variation in the quality of the offerings. Sales of four stock were made as low as 25 cents per crate, with extra fancy grades bringing $1 per crate. Demand for the better grades, however, were sluggish. Peas were higher, despite the fact that local and express receipts were again liberal. Best grades were bringing from 3 to 11 cents per pound, an advance of a cent per pound. Chili and bell peppers were cents per pound higher on the Florida and hot-house offerings. Sweet potatoes are following the advance of the white varieties, yesterday's quotations being about 25 cents per lug box higher than those of the preceding day. Some of the offerings, however, were of very poor quality, and moved as low as $1.35 per lug box.

IS PROVING OF VALUE AS A PEACE MACHINE

Of all the war machines that have been turned to the uses of peace times, the airplane has proved the most useful. It carries mail in the United States, enables ranchers to round up lost cattle and forest guards to detect fires in their incipency, takes passengers to their destinations long in advance of the fastest express trains and may, some day, prove useful in overlooking hold-up men who escape in high-powered automobiles. In Canada it is used by the mounted police to cover the vast regions lying between civilization and the Arctic ocean. In India and Mesopotamia it is more feared by the wild tribes than batteries of artillery. But now the tank is coming into its own. In Fresno the tanks, after being dismantled, have been hitched to plows, canal boats and trains of wagons. In Michigan it is being used to haul trains of logs. Perhaps in time use will be found for the Big Berthas, the only war machines which seem to be absolutely useless for peace purposes.

FOSSILS SHOW ANCIENT SEAWEED LIKE TODAY'S

That many seaweeds of some 25 or 30 million years ago closely resemble those growing now is the statement made by Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian institution, in describing fossil remains of ancient sea plants discovered in the Canadian Rocky mountains. That seems to be the first proof that such a form of plant life existed in that far distant past, although many primitive forerunners of animal life have been brought to light in the form of fossils. The fossils were found by Dr. Walcott at Burgess pass, British Columbia. Some of them were cut into thin sections for study. In the remote time when the plants were deposited on the muddy sea bottom, rock formations that now are thousands of feet above sea level in the Rocky mountains formed the shore line of the middle Cambrian sea.

BRITISH PLAN FLIGHT IS SO. AMERICAN AIR ROUTES LEAD TO RULE OF POET

LONDON, Mar. 12.—Handley Page, who is famous as the producer of the giant British bombing planes prepared for the attack on Berlin which the armistice forestalled, has completed negotiations for establishing an air mail and passenger service from South America.

From the tropical Brazilian town of Pernambuco the route lies south along the Atlantic seaboard for 2,600 miles to the gay and festive Argentine capital, Buenos Aires. Between those two terminals there will be ten other ports of call, the principal cities along the coast, dividing the flight into eleven easy stages. After leaving Pernambuco the planes will stop at the Brazilian cities of Marcejo, Bahia, Caravelas, Victoria, Rio Janeiro, San Paulo, Florianopolis, Porto Alegre, Pelotas, and the last halt before Buenos Aires will be at Montevideo, Uruguay.

The longest flight will be 325 miles between Bahia and Caravelas, and the shortest between Pernambuco and Macao and Montevideo and Buenos Aires, 125 miles each. By arranging these short stages, the chances of accident have been reduced to a minimum and along nearly the whole course there are firm, sandy beaches to take the machines should they be forced to make emergency landings.

At first there will only be daylight flying, making the whole trip take three days from end to end. But that is six days less than the present mailboat service.

When flying at night is introduced the whole journey will only take about thirty-six hours. While the planes are only flying during the day passengers will sleep at Bahia, Rio and Porto Alegre.

Climatically the route is well chosen and in the northern sections ideal. Toward the south there are occasional fierce gales, "pamperos," but usually these can be forecasted, and as the planes will be in constant wireless communication with coasting steamers which get all storm warnings no great trouble is anticipated.

Handley Page representatives have been doing a lot of talking to South American business men about the service and they expect to get ample cargoes as soon as the route is opened. Important business mail will be carried by the speed of transmission and the charge per letter for the whole trip probably will not be more than 70 cents.

The short stages planned will allow the planes to carry light supplies of gasoline and oil so there will be plenty of space for parcel post and passengers. Rich Argentinians and South American tourists as well as commercial travelers between the Brazilian and Argentine capitals are expected to make frequent use of this comfortable and enjoyable way of getting about.

LONDON, March 12.—A low necked blouse isn't a "pneumonia" blouse at all—it's a health-giving, life-saving garment.

Anyone doubting this statement is at liberty to consult Prof. Leonard Hill, who has been making investigations for the Medical Research Committee.

A bashful man should shrink from investigating so flimsy and decollete a portion of women's wearing apparel. But Prof. Hill isn't bashful. He investigated and made discoveries, all in the sacred cause of science.

He asserted that the blouse does not cause pneumonia, but is conducive to good health—the open neck acting as a chimney to the clothes, letting heat and moisture escape.

This discovery, not the blouse leaves women out. They always knew it. It's one of those things they might have told Prof. Hill, saving him all the expense of research work.

"The healthiest people in the world are sailors," said a woman physician, and the unhealthiest perhaps are nuns.

All the same women are glad to know they stand in right with science.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

WILL NOT BLISTER

FIUME, Mar. 12.—Fiume is now in a sad plight and the great majority of its citizens bitterly regret that the Poet Commander, as D'Annunzio was called in the heyday of his popularity, ever entered it. The city's internal condition rapidly goes from bad to worse. True, there is no longer immediate danger of the volunteer army putting it to the sack, as there was a few days ago, when the whole place was in a ferment over the plebiscite.

D'Annunzio, who assumed the dictatorship against the wishes of the majority of the citizens, has his troops fairly well in hand. The city obeys him, too, but without any of the enthusiasm of a few weeks ago. In fact, enthusiasm is stone dead and hundreds of men are deserting from the poet's army.

The food situation is very bad. Many people get nothing but the bread and soup which is distributed in various parts of the city now. Local stocks of grain are so low they cannot possibly hold out till the middle of January, even with the strictest economy. Thousands of men have been out of work since last August and local resources cannot cope with their modest needs.

Epidemic of Typhus. Pessimism stalks about the city, which for weeks has been living on hope, blind to cold facts. The sanitary conditions get worse as food goes scarcer. An epidemic of typhus has broken out and is sweeping over the city.

D'Annunzio's Arditi, or storm troops, made up of the most reckless elements, are regarded by all peace-loving citizens with fear and dislike. They commit many acts of violence against those they know voted in favor of agreement with Nitti's Government and use their arms against volunteers who say this agreement is the only right course. These Arditi have had a pleasant time in Fiume and do not want to leave the idle life and good pay which the Poet Commander has given them. When they do have to go, Fiumians greatly fear they will sack the city. And this only adds to the prevailing gloom.

The volunteers who have left Fiume had to go back to Italy by way of Trieste, all other roads being blocked. Those of them who were in the Regular Army reported at General Headquarters there and were sent off to the fortress at Trente. It is not yet decided whether they will be tried for desertion or let free after a certain time. Probably they will not be very severely dealt with, since many high grade officers, including Admiral Millo, have got off scot free.

Fiume's Christmas was deservingly gloomy. D'Annunzio and his staff, with a few hundred soldiers, attended midnight mass. Many women were there, but few male citizens. In fact, the little popularity that he has left is due to the fair sex.

On Christmas Day his troops gave fresh offense by their unruly behavior. All day long and far into the night they fired muskets and threw hand bombs. Firing from guns and revolvers is a Balkan custom on feast days, but Fiume has always looked down on Balkan peoples as savages and resented such boisterous fun when thousands of citizens are face to face with ruin and hunger.

Allies' Stores Sold. News having reached Rome that D'Annunzio has been selling military stores left by the American, French and British troops so as to raise much-needed cash for his troops, Nitti's Government has warned him that it will seize all such goods taken into Italy and restore them to their lawful owners. As a matter of fact, comparatively little of the stuff has been bought by Italians. Most of it has gone into the Slav villages and towns near here. But Nitti's warning probably will stop the sale.

The poet's popularity has vanished like smoke. Even his Christmas presence to the poor of 25,000 lire failed to raise a spark of enthusiasm. Vanished, too, are the crowds who used to cheer him as he reviewed his troops. His day is done. All the Fiumians want now is for him to leave the town at the head of his dreaded Arditi, and leave it unsacked.

MEXICO AND NORTHERN EUROPE GIVE INCREASE

Reports on immigration show a slight increase over 1918, suggesting that the tide has turned back to our shores, though as yet very weakly. In the ten years previous to 1914, immigration averaged a million a year. Year before last showed a net immigration of 18,000; last year, 20,000.

The real significance of the present situation lies, however, in the character or source of immigration. Except for a 24,000 net gain from Mexico, the largest gains are from Northern Europe, England showing 30,000 net gain, France 20,000, Scotland 13,000 and Ireland 8,000.

Economically, the present drift is unfavorable, as 18,000 laborers entered, while 74,000 departed. However, if the present proportions are retained, the political gain will be considerable, since the increases are from countries allied to us in race, custom and law. Assimilation of immigrants from Northern European countries is easier and speedier, and this is a consideration we are not now in a mood to overlook.

On the other hand, the labor shortage is producing serious consequences and constituting the chief factor in our problem of reconstruction. At the moment relief does not appear to be near.—Chicago Tribune.

'PEATLAND' FOLK ATTEND LOCAL WEDDING

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, Mar. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham and daughter, Miss Ethel Graham, attended on Tuesday evening the wedding of Miss Eunice Stockton and Mr. James Sewell of Berkeley, which occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Huro Lamb, on South Sycamore street, Santa Ana. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate members of the Stockton family and a few close friends witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by C. C. Condra, minister of the church of Christ, Santa Ana.

The bride, who is a charming brunette, was arrayed in a lovely gown of white georgette and carried a beautiful bouquet of brides' roses and maidenhair fern. The groom wore a full-dress suit. The couple were unattended.

The pretty home was artistically decorated in pink carnations with ferns, and altogether the affair was most perfectly arranged. Delicious refreshments of cake and ice cream were served before the departure of the guests. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

Mrs. Sewell is very popular in this community, where the family resided a number of years until their recent removal to Santa Ana. She attended grammar and high school in Santa Ana.

The wedding is the culmination of a college romance, the young people having become acquainted at Berkeley, where Mr. Sewell was a sophomore and Miss Stockton a freshman.

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell will make their home at Berkeley and are expected to leave for the North soon. Mr. Sewell is a member of the U. of C. club and an agent of the New York Life Insurance Company at Berkeley.

$3500 Is Paid for Valencia Crop On 5 Acres, 7-Year-Olds

ANAHEIM, Mar. 12.—Why is it that Orange county Valencia groves are going clear up out of sight?

This question, sometimes asked, is partly answered by the sale this week of the crop on the E. A. Collins five-acre ranch on East Santa Ana street, between East street and Placentia avenue.

The trees are seven years old, and Collins has just sold the crop as it stands on the trees for $3500, or $700 an acre, and is relieved of all the trouble of picking and marketing.

The buyer was the Benchley Fruit Company of Fullerton, and so far as reported, this is the first purchase by an independent concern of the new Valencia crop in this district.

$30,000 SCIENCE CHURCH OPENED THIS WEEK

FULLERTON Mar. 12.—Fullerton's newest house of worship, the Christian Science edifice constructed on a tract of ground bounded by Chapman, Pomona and Whiting avenues, was opened to the public for the first time this week with a lecture by Frank M. Leonard, of Chicago, Ill., the beautiful and cozy church being filled to standing room.

The seating capacity of the church is 750.

The main entrance faces southeast fronting on the corner of Chapman and Pomona avenues. The main auditorium can best be described by saying it resembles a palm leaf fan in shape with the reader's platform located at the point where the handle is attached to the fan and the main entrance at the top of the fan. This arrangement brings the audience close to the reader's platform and within easy hearing distance, so that a person talking in an ordinary tone of voice can be distinctly heard in any part of the church.

The main auditorium is equipped with handsome opera chairs, the floor being covered with a plush carpet of drab with lavender tint.

The interior color scheme is wonderfully attractive being of three or four delicate colors or lavender, blending beautifully.

The church is equipped with the furnace air system of heating. The windows are iridescent glass with a medallion in the center of each window.

The exterior of the church follows the lines of the Spanish Colonial style of architecture. There is a crescent shaped cement walk running from Chapman to Pomona avenues passing directly in front of the main entrance.

The yard will be planted to shrubbery, the work to be done under the supervision of an expert landscape artist.

The church and furnishings will cost over $30,000. This is exclusive of the lot. A pipe organ will be added later, the church being constructed with this object in view, the organ screen being above the reader's platform, so that the instrument can be installed with little or no trouble.

The opening services of the new church will be held Sunday, March 14, the first at 11 a. m., and the second at 3 p. m.

The Anaheim boys are praying that their new uniforms may be available before that date, as each one is anxious to make a good appearance. It is reported that Riley will get into the game himself, and with eighteen beautiful but critical female eyes fastened upon him he is expected to "come back" with bells on, and even outdo the brilliant record he made last Sunday.
